REPORT NO.

1. In October 1950 the Chinese Communists sent more than 200 Chinese-trained Burmese Communists to Mangshih (98-35, 24-27). In December these Burmese were training other Burmese Communists to assist in the planned invasions of Burma.
2. In early December LU Han, former Nationalist who is now chairman of the Yunnan Military and Administrative Commission, was placed under custody in Chungking, where he had gone from Kunming to attend a conference.
3. In late December, Chinese Communists in Yunnan were seizing and openly executing guerrillas and defected Nationalists whom they considered politically unreliable.

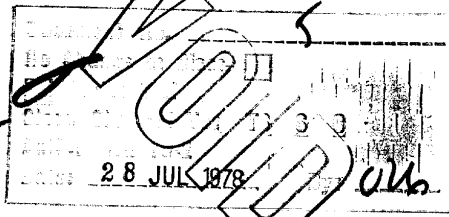

* [REDACTED] Comment. Possibly "revolution" is a more correct term.

 [REDACTED] Comment. [REDACTED] on Burmese Communist troops being trained in Mangshih.

 [REDACTED] Comment. [REDACTED] for some time LU has had no real power despite his high position. In October a number of his officers were being detained by the Communists under the pretext of receiving training.

[REDACTED] Comment. Apparently this is evidence of a stricter control of LU, [REDACTED]
